Purpose of CHA: To promote excellence in safety and education internationally for the benefit of the horse industry.

HCR Winner: Jenny Sdrenka

My name is Jenny Sdrenka and I am 12 years old and in 7th grade. As I am in virtual school, I have more time for my horses and other animals (donkeys, dogs, bunnies, and a chinchilla). My horse, The Rockin Doc, or Doc for short is registered with AQHA and is 16 years young.

I just love being around and working with horses. They are just so majestic and beautiful. When I am around them I feel free and the trust and understanding we have is worth every single moment I spend with them. As my parents own a stable and my mom is a CHA certified instructor, my volunteer hours include the whole range of barn chores, but as well cool things like helping out with the vet or the farrier, giving stable tours, and helping others to learn about horses and how to be safe around them. I have recently picked up vaulting and I absolutely love it. Also I can't wait until I am 16 so I can get CHA certified as a Assistant Riding Instructor. I love to ride English, jump, vault, and ride bareback. Although I usually don't ride much Western, Doc does very well in trail classes. I was lucky enough to attend two International CHA Conferences and met so many wonderful people, for example Julie Goodnight, Heidi Potter, David O'Connor, Daniel Stewart, Chester Weber and so many more inspirational people.

SECOND PLACE: Emily Stobbe

Hi my name is Emily Stobbe. I am 14 years old and live in beautiful British Columbia. I love riding my 15hh Appendix mare "Lady Lacey." We enter in the little britches and high school rodeos doing barrel racing and goat tying. When I compete I feel great because I have lots of people cheering for me. My family is the best supporter out there. My horse and I are a team.

THIRD PLACE: Anastasia Kirkland

Ana Kirkland of Willard, MO, is 11 years old and in 6th grade. She has loved horses for as long she can remember. She started riding lessons when she was 7 and in just over a year got her own horse, Dixie. Dixie is a solid Paint mare APHA Dixons Black Diamond. Dixie is now 15 years old and a much loved member of the family. Ana spent two years in western showing and 4H, but last summer she and Dixie started dressage lessons. They have found they are both well suited to this style of riding and have joined the local dressage society and USDF. Ana is excited for her first dressage show season this year. When not at the stables, Ana focuses on core strength training and reads books and magazines about horses and riding. She also enjoys making up new horse treat recipes. She has participated in TEAM CHA for 2 years and likes the way they encourage you to spend time with your horse and track your hours. Ana thinks she may want to be a riding instructor / trainer, a vet or an engineer when she grows up.

BREED SPOTLIGHT

Morgan Horse

What would you do if you had the chance to name your own breed of horse? Well Justin Morgan, a music teacher from Vermont, had that chance back in 1789. A small bay colt was born on his farm and Justin named him Figure. This horse could work all day clearing the farm land and still race and win against Justin's neighbors at the end of the day. Figure could win under saddle or in harness, something most horses could not do today.

This small stallion was beautiful, strong, and willing with gaits that helped people cover many miles. He was known as "Justin Morgan's Horse."

All of these good traits were passed on to his offspring; to make up today's Morgan Horse. Today Morgans are used in all types and styles of riding. They are used for ranch work, in the show ring, under saddle and in harness.

The American Morgan Horse Club supports this breed and has a youth program you might want to check out. Visit <http://www.morganhorse.com/youth> for info.
